

2006 Commonwealth Games Gold Medalists

Greengauge Sales Manager Alex Marshall strikes gold! Alex along with pairs partner Paul Foster won a closely contested Commonwealth Games final against the England pairing of Ian Bond and Mark Bantock.

What was remarkable about the final was that all four players played with the new Hensilite TIGER II model bowl which only became available for public sale in the UK the week after the event finished. Alex and Paul, who are currently playing professionally in Australia, both commented that interest in the TIGER II has "gone through the roof" since their medal success.

Greengauge – The Choice for the National Museum of Scotland

The National Museum of Scotland, Edinburgh was delighted to discover HomeTurf artificial grass. The museum asked Greengauge for an artificial grass that could be mistaken for the real thing for their monster Creepy Crawley exhibition.

More than 400m2 of HomeTurf was fitted in the main hall of the museum.

Over 1000 visitors a day visited the exhibition to discover the wonders of monster size insects from around the globe.

Ms Holfert, the designer and creator, said “children, grannies, mums and dads love the grass, it was so worth it. HomeTurf looks and feels very realistic.
