Focus on Greg Harlow

Greg Harlow is just one of the many well known faces in the bowling world to work for Greengauge. He is the UK Sales Manager for our sister company Greengauge Sports Ltd and is responsible for sales of all bowls equipment in England and Wales. He also helps out when required with sales duties for our surfaces division—so look out you may get a visit soon from one of England's top bowlers!!

Greg has won many tournaments in his career but one of the sweetest ones to date was the Engage Open Tournament in Sheffield last month. This was Greg's second televised tournament win and he pocketed a cool £15000 for his troubles.

Welcome to Greengauge News!!!

For the first time, we at Greengauge have decided to distribute a brand new newsletter. It will be sent out on a bi-monthly basis over the indoor season commencing December.

It will be sent to all of our customers, suppliers and key associates of our business.

It will be packed full of information on our products and services and will also keep you bang up to date with what Greengauge is up to.

Greengauge continues to be the world market leader in the indoor and outdoor artificial bowling surfaces market—let us tell you what is going on!!

It is also planned to keep you abreast of developments at our sister company Greengauge Sports Ltd who distribute a wide range of bowls and related products from our HQ here in Musselburgh. We will up-date you too on our synthetic surfaces division including the exclusive "Hometurf" domestic lawn products, artificial grass, safety surfaces and sports surfaces.

Greengauge Expands Overseas

Greengauge has had another incredible year moving into new markets and consolidating itself in existing ones. Installations have taken place in New Zealand, Australia, Cyprus, Ireland and Spain to name just a few.

Colin Cooper the company's Operations & Marketing Director commented "Although the UK indoor surface market will always be our core business and the one that we still dominate in terms of market share it is important to seek out new business opportunities overseas all the time. I think my colleague Peter Hiom and I will be clocking up a few air miles over the next few months!"
